The NACHW 2023 Unity
Conference is coming to Austin, Texas!

We invite you to become a sponsor today!

Dear Community Health Worker Potential Sponsor:

Federal, national and state level policy makers, funders and employers, want to partner with and integrate Community Health Workers (CHWs), in response to persistent and urgent challenges including public health worker shortages, weakness in public health infrastructure, ongoing COVID/Flu/RSV infections, rising barriers to social and behavioral health services, and historic racial and health inequities for marginalized communities.

CHWs are frontline public health professionals with deep trust, shared life experience and relationship with the persons they serve. This umbrella title includes a highly diverse, skilled and culturally aligned community of Promotoras, Community Health Representatives on tribal nations, Aunties in Asian, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander communities, outreach workers, peers, doulas, and dozens of other work titles.

For CHWs to thrive in their communities and careers, and improve the trust, quality and effectiveness of primary care, public health and social services, they need the unifying and coordinating leadership support of a national Association.

The National Association of Community Health Workers \(NACHW\) was launched in April 2019 as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit membership driven organization. Founded by CHWs and allies, our vision is to unify Community Health Workers - across geography, ethnicity, sector, gender and lived experience - to support communities to achieve health, equity and social justice.

In just three years, we have become the national voice and convening body for CHWs. NACHW has more than 2,300 active individual and organizational members who hail from all 50 states, and nearly 9,000 people on our national email listserv and 16,000 in our COVID listserv.

We invite you to become a sponsor of the NACHW 2023 Unity Conference & Annual Meeting. This year's theme is "The Workforce We Need for the World We Want".

If you were part of our 2022 experience as a sponsor, we thank you and invite you to keep supporting this great cause and this unique event that brings CHWs around the country together. With the help of sponsors, our 2022 Annual Meeting and Unity conference was an unforgettable event with our keynote, Pulitzer Prize Poet and Author Joy Harjo, certificate sessions on advocacy and self-care, and over 30 additional workshops and informal networking sessions. We engaged more than 1000 participants in 2022 - and our members and partners are eager to convene in person in 2023, safely and with even more exceptional offerings!

If you were not part of this amazing group of supporters, we hope you will join us in celebrating, educating, and advancing the Community Health Workers as a Sponsor of the 2023 Unity Conference!

We look forward to your sponsorship!

ABOUT NACHW

NACHW is the only national professional organization led by a CHW in the Executive Director position - and with CHWs in 50% of our Board positions - who deeply understand the CHW profession and its history. Our Board of Directors are experts whose footprint includes the development of major CHW initiatives, including authoring seminal national research and workforce studies, leading the creation of the DOL classification for CHWs, co-creating the APHA CHW Section and their CHW policies, articulating nationally endorsed C3 Project core competencies, and launching dozens of state associations.

NACHW supports Community Health Workers (CHWs in an umbrella title used to refer to Community Health Representatives (CHRs), Promotoras(es), peers, outreach workers, and dozens of other frontline, trusted, public health workforce members) through the lens of six values: unity, equity and social justice, self-determination, self-empowerment, dignity and respect, and integrity.

NACHW has been at the forefront of amplifying CHW roles to advance racial equity in testing, social needs and vaccine distribution during COVID-19, and as thought leaders in critical discussions to improve public health capacity and infrastructure, and sustainably integrate CHWs as essential, critical contributors to population health and well-being.

VISIT US ONLINE

We invite you to visit our website, where you will find information about partnership opportunities, view state CHW policy documents and reports, get updates about our national learning collaboratives and national CHW leadership team, and explore our COVID-19 portfolio.

For more information about the roles and leadership capacity of CHWs, read articles highlighting our values and work published by CNN, the Associated Press, Kaiser Health News, Johnson & Johnson, Prism Reports and USA Today.

2023 Unity at a Glance

Our interactive, educational and informative gathering will convene Community Health Workers and Allies, members and partners from across the country to celebrate the diversity and resilience of the workforce.

Unity 2023 will have over 50 different workshops which will highlight CHW leaders in policy, research, workforce development, cross section partnership, infectious and chronic disease prevention and treatment, and CHWs leading in equity across all these topics. In addition to workshops, NACHW will have certificate eligible trainings, up-to 50 poster presentations, 2 keynotes, 100 different booths and vendors – and our 1st Annual Gala where many CHW Leaders will be celebrated and awarded, along with a night of festivities.

August 3 – Annual Business Meeting August 4 & 5 – Unity Conference

The theme for our Unity Conference 2023:
“The workforce we need for the world we want.”

Why Sponsor?

- Visibility of brand within the CHW workforce nationwide
- Create connections with the biggest CHW network in the country
- Support individuals actively creating positive change in their communities
- Increased return on investment through leveraging of NACHW's national reach
- And many more reasons!

The Unity Conference has been a staple event for the CHW profession, previously held in-person every year in various locations across the country. The 2023 Unity Conference will serve as the first in-person event since 2019, having moved to a virtual format in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic. The 2023 event serves as an opportunity for CHWs to come together in fellowship, and for NACHW to honor the impactful work they have done, in response to COVID-19 and beyond.

Join us in Austin!

Located in Central Texas on the eastern edge of the American Southwest, Austin is the capital of the state of Texas, the Lone Star State. Austin has an estimated population of 961,855 according to the 2020 U.S. Census.

Austin's mild climate allows you to enjoy outdoor activities virtually year round. Austin has 300 days of sunshine a year, with only 3 average days of rain in August.

Texas as a whole has the largest number of CHW members for NACHW. CHWs and allies in Texas work in a wide range of sectors, and represent several state-wide networks and organizations.
